

REDISTRIBUTION, COUNTY SYSTEM, COMING UP AT NEXT SESSION—INDICATIONS ARE THAT NEW GROUPING WILL BE PUT IN EFFECT SIMULTANEOUSLY—WILL IT MEAN UNIFORM VOTING?

Edmonton, March 3.—Redistribution in Alberta, and revision of the electoral voting system will not be dealt with this year by the government but will be put over until next session of the legislature when adoption of the county system in Alberta will be considered at the same time.

It was learned Saturday morning from an authoritative source that this is the program in the mind of the government at present.

It does not mean that the government is in any way committed to adopt the county system, but it does explain Premier J. E. Brownlee's non-committal attitude on the subject of redistribution at this session of the legislature.

Two Systems Together
When the U. F. A. convention resolutions were not before the government early in the session, one of them pointed out the necessity of a redistribution. At that time, the premier told the U. F. A. representatives that the time was near when the government must take redistribution into consideration.

When the premier made this statement the report of the advisory committee on taxation was not yet ready. The committee was expected to make some report and suggestions concerning the advisability or inadvisability of adopting the county system. But when the report came in it contained merely a statement that the subject of the county system required more study.

It is taken for granted that the committee will continue studies on this point, and that, at the next session the whole subject of adopting a county system, and at the same time achieving a redistribution of electoral districts on the basis of a county system, will be discussed by the legislature. At the same time, the subject of a uniform system of voting for all the province should be adopted, or whether Alberta should continue under the present system of proportional representation for the cities and the preferential ballot for rural constituencies will also be discussed.

PRESENTATION TO MR. AND MRS. F. MORRIS

On Friday, March 2nd, the members of the Presbyterian choir surprised Mr. and Mrs. F. Morris at their home, when Mrs. Bert Eckmiller for the members of the choir presented Mrs. Morris with a set of silver candlesticks and Mr. Morris with a mantel clock. Miss Harris read an address of appreciation of service in choir and regrets on the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Morris, to which Mr. Morris suitably replied. The evening was pleasantly spent with a musical program and an interchange of social amenities. Dainty refreshments were served.

The Address

Macleod, Alberta,
March 2nd, 1928.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morris,
Macleod, Alberta.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Morris:—
It was with feelings of very sincere regret, that we, the members of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Choir, heard of your departure from Macleod in the near future.

The cordial and happy relations which have existed between you, Mr. Morris, as Organist and Choir Leader and the members of the Choir for so many years, make your departure a very great loss indeed to all concerned.

We can never forget the inestimable services which you have rendered to the choir, your wonderful devotion and enthusiasm at all times, in the preparation of the musical part of the Church Services, and the training which we have received from you in the practices.

We ask you both to accept these small tokens of our esteem and appreciation for all you have done for us as a Choir, and we trust that they will remind you in the years to come, of the many happy times we have spent together in Old St. Andrew's and at your home in Macleod.

It is our sincere wish and hope, that health, happiness and prosperity will ever be yours in your new home.

THE HIT-RUN DRIVER

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, has been asked by the Quebec Safety League to sponsor an amendment to the Criminal Code which will provide a fine of $1000 and 12 months in jail for motorists who cause an accident and then run away.

Certainly the yellow-hued gentry who hit and run are deserving of the heaviest penalties the law can devise. And this suggested penalty should cool off their ardor for a quick getaway after an accident.

But no matter how drastic the penalties in automobile cases may be made, they will not remedy the fundamental cause of automobile accidents.

Penalties must stand, and they must be heavy, to achieve results.
But the worst menace to traffic safety is not the fellow who can be deterred by heavy penalties, but the idiot who has not enough mentality and judgment to be deterred by anything.

The keynote of traffic safety is not so much control of the driver as elimination of the hopeless driver.

The law will not allow irresponsible persons to wander around with revolvers in their pockets. To carry a gun, one must satisfy the authorities that one is careful and responsible.

Yet the law permits any fool who has a dollar for a license to get behind the wheel of a machine that is potentially as deadly as 20 guns.
Increase the penalties for motor vehicle offenses by all means. But first institute laws that will prevent those of unfit mentality and unfit temperament from driving.

To definitely and finally bar unfit drivers from the road would not only increase traffic safety 75 per cent, but would render the necessary imposition of drastic penalties a rarity.

CLEANLINESS AND HEALTH

Dr. Herman Bundesen, president of the American Public Health Association, says that a health commissioner's duties do not end with the simple enforcement of the health laws and the sanitary code. Above all, he says such an officer must promote community cleanliness.

For cleanliness is the basis of all public health measures. Dirt and disease are inseparable companions.
Banish one and you discourage the other.

Cleanliness, to the health officer, is indeed "next to godliness," as the old proverb says.

DUELS WITH BOXING GLOVES

It does seem as if romance were dying out swiftly. The other day in Paris, two upper-class Frenchmen got into an argument that could only be settled on the field of honor. One challenged the other to a duel. The challenge was accepted, seconds were appointed and the usual arrangements were made.

But the weapons—ah, harkened!

The Frenchmen fought, not with swords, nor even with pistols, but with—boxing gloves! They fought, we read, five rounds before they decided that honor was satisfied.

We submit that the world has come to a pretty pass when things like that can happen. To be sure, a duel with boxing gloves is ever so much more sensible than a duel with swords or pistols. But who in thunder wants to see duels conducted with common sense?

Romance is dead. All that remains is to open D'Artagnan's grave and see if he hasn't turned over.

RUNAWAY GIRLS

More than 3000 girls and young women disappeared from home in New York City last year. The police official in charge of the Missing Persons Bureau says one of two things causes most runaways: parents or the stage.

Many girls run away to go on the stage; but more, he says, run away because their parents are too stern.

The parent today is apt to face a pretty tough problem. Too much liberty can lead to disaster; yet too little, as this police official points out, can be equally bad. Truly, no one needs wisdom as a parent needs it.

WEDDING BELLS

ZOETEMAN-KOOPMAN

A very interesting wedding ceremony was performed on Wednesday, March 1st, at the home of Mrs.
John Zoeteman, Pearce, Alberta, by the Rev. D. A. Elmes of Monarch, when he united in marriage Mathilda Koopman, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Koopman of Tide Lake, Alberta, and Leonard Zoeteman, eldest son of Mrs. John Zoeteman of Pearce, Alberta. The bride wore a beautiful dress of sand georgette with lovely inset of lace and carried a handsome bouquet of Ophelia roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Winnie Zoeteman, sister of the groom, was dressed in a very becoming dress of old rose broadcloth and carried a beautiful bouquet of carnations to match. Bastian Zoeteman, brother of the groom, was best man. Immediately after the ceremony the guests, to the number of twenty-four, were served with a dainty wedding luncheon, the bride's father and mother being among those present.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful wedding gifts. The house had been artistically decorated for the occasion with flowers and streamers of pink and white, and white wedding bells, and during the afternoon a delightful reception was held when many friends from Macleod, Monarch and surrounding district called to meet the happy couple, offer congratulations and welcome the bride to the district.

On the following evening in the school house, which was appropriately decorated with white ribbons and bells, a reception dance to the young couple was given. At this most enjoyable function nearly two hundred from far and near were present and again the happy couple were showered with good wishes, not to mention confetti and garlands of ribbon. No pains nor expenses were spared to make this event worthy and all agreed that expectations were more than realized. Nothing was omitted that would contribute to the pleasure of the guests. Ed-gar's orchestra supplied the music, and all so happily enjoyed themselves that old and young alike regretted the termination of the pleasant affair.

Mr. Zoeteman is one of the most energetic and successful farmers of the Pearce district and well known.
The father of the bride is a prosperous farmer of the Tide Lake district and farms there on a large scale.

Mr. and Mrs. Zoeteman will make their home at Pearce, Alberta.

Old Dobbin has his faults, but he didn't start a fuss with a telephone pole when you needed both hands for courting.

A companionate marriage doesn't prove anything except that a pup doesn't struggle to get loose if he isn't tied.

Among the things that come to those who wait is this: "Naw, this ain't Two-Double-O-Six. You gotta wrong number."

A hick town is one where the police merely wonder why Bill lets his car stand on Main street all day.

EVERY CITIZEN OF MACLEOD & DISTRICT is interested in the

GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT OF THIS COMMUNITY

Remember Then That:

The business of a town is its very life-blood.

The stores and business houses are not alone for the merchants.

Prosperous merchants will make the community prosper.

The more buyers there are in a town, the greater "turn over" the merchants will have, and thus the more they will be able to reduce prices and increase the quality of the goods they sell.

Thus By Trading at Home with the home town merchants the people of Macleod become the builders of their own community.

No True Citizen

will stunt the natural growth and expansion of his home town by fostering the mail order business of far away communities.

The travelling outfits who have the road contracts between Macleod and Calgary are now putting in all they know to get the work completed as quickly as possible within schedule time. Extra gangs are being put on and the outfits are going night and day. The very bad weather during the past weeks made it impossible for the men to get on the roads and caused a very severe handicap to the contractors. When the road is completed it will be one of the finest gravelled highways in Canada, and a source of delight to all motorists.

On Friday last Wallace Hamilton, star defence player of the Macleod hockey team, suffered a fractured bone in his right foot. Wallace was playing a hard game for the local boys in their exhibition match with Nanton on Friday evening, and on account of the soft ice he fell and broke a bone in his foot. He was taken to the hospital, where the injured member was treated and he is now progressing satisfactorily. Wallace has been one of the standbys for the Macleod Hockey Team for the past ten years, and his ever cheery manner on the ice has made him many friends both with visiting and home teams, who will be sorry to hear of his accident, and will wish him a speedy recovery.

Threshing in the Macleod district is now general, and practically all the outfits, with a continuation of decent weather, will be kept busy for the next few weeks, as only a small percentage of the crops had been threshed prior to the bad weather setting in. A number of those who have threshed during the past few days have found their wheat registering number three and going between thirty and forty bushels to the acre. In the south country around Standoff and Ardenville there is more threshing to be done than in other districts, as they had more snow and rain, hence were unable to get the machines busy.

R. T. Barker, of Macleod, received a wire Wednesday morning from his sister, Mrs. Rev. Dr. McLean, Winnipeg: "Dr. McLean passed away this morning at 7:45 a. m." The late Rev. Dr. McLean was the second Methodist Missionary sent to Southern Alberta, in 1880, where he ministered to the Police and others in those early days, with whom he was very popular. He visited the boys in their sickness, buried those who died, and married those who came to him for marriage. He was the first school inspector in Southern Alberta. He was moved by the Church in 1887 to the village of Moose Jaw, and from there to Winnipeg. Later he edited one of the church papers in Halifax. Coming West to Winnipeg, he was given mission work in that city, where he has remained up to the time of his death. In 1918 he was appointed archivist for the Church. He was a
